

Korean Crisis

1950-1953 What happened North Korea attacked South Korea UN forces pushed North Koreans back up, But got too close to China, who pushed back UN pushed Chinese and N. Koreans back up the to the 38th parallel, when a cease fire occurred Forces were mainly American (+16 other states) forces reported to Truman, under leadership of US General MacArthur Results Nothing much changed brought around the Uniting For Peace Resolution USSR blamed Trgve Lie for swift action - pressured him to resign Success or Failure Success pushed agression back actual action occurred collective security occurred - set precedent 16 countries involved Failure didn't unite country mainly US operation time of COld war, only because it was against the communists that US got involved Only because of absence of Russia in Security Council, were troops allowed to be sent (they were protesting the fact that Communist China would not be recognised by UN) Not much time given to negotiations

About the Author

Source: <http://crampuppy.com>